

Sovereignty Speaks ©

Institutional Review Boards: Protecting Native Citizens

Sohail Khan, MBBS, MPH, CIP
Cherokee Nation Health, Director of Health Research
Cherokee Nation Institutional Review Board, Co-Chair

Dr. Khan earned his MPH in 1992 in Epidemiology and Biostatistics from the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center College of Public Health. His recent research publications focus on rheumatic disease, metabolic syndromes, Type 2 Diabetes among Oklahoma tribal populations, and effective collaboration between tribal nations and Indian Health Service.

Michael Peercy, MPH, MT(ASCP)H
Chickasaw Nation Department of Health Epidemiologist
Chickasaw Nation Institutional Review Board, Administrator

Mr. Peercy earned his MPH in 2009 from the University of Oklahoma. He is an epidemiologist with the Chickasaw Nation's Division of Research and Public Health, and he's a certified Medical Technologist with a specialty in hematology. Mr. Peercy also serves as technical advisor representing Oklahoma on the National Institutes of Health's Tribal Advisory Committee.

Bobby Saunkeah, RN, MSHCE, CIP
Chickasaw Nation Division of Public Health, Manager
Chickasaw Nation Institutional Review Board, Chair and Human Research Subjects Protections Administrator

Mr. Saunkeah earned his Master's in Healthcare Ethics at Creighton, and his Nursing degree at OU. He has a long history in clinical research at OU Health Sciences and at Mt. Sinai Hospital. He is a tribal representative on National Indian Health Service IRB, a Certified IRB Professional (CIP) and adjunct faculty for the Department of Health Promotion at the OU College of Public Health.

Ryan Schubbach, Pharm.D., BCPS, CACP
Captain, U.S. Public Health Service
Vice Chair, IHS National Pharmacy & Therapeutics Committee,
FDA Drug Safety Oversight Board

Captain Ryan Schubbach is Vice Chair for the IHS committee charged with global responsibilities including formulary management oversight and clinical education/guidance. Capt. Schubbach has worked for the IHS as a pharmacist in numerous clinical capacities since his pharmacy career began in 2001.